Hi Tiffany,

Folks at NWIFC might be interested in this, and several folks suggested that Larry might be interested in this document as well in connection with his implementation project. I haven't looked through it yet so can't confirm, but others suggested forwarding it on.

Hi PST,

FYI, Below is a link to Ecology's recently published document that provides information on livestock related water quality impacts to help landowners make informed management decisions to protect water quality. This document was developed by a sub-committee of the Agriculture and Water Quality Advisory Group. The subcommittee was represented by the Cattlemen's Association, Farm Bureau, Cattle Producers of Washington, Washington State Department of Agriculture, State Conservation Commission, WSU and environmental groups.
